Talk to Ms. Daniel to arrange another rehearsal time if this is a conflict. Students may bring their own snack for rehearsals if they like.

PARENTS/GUARDIANS MUST BE NOTIFIED BEFORE THE REHEARSAL DAY IF THE STUDENT IS STAYING FOR AN OPTIONAL REHEARSAL. THEY WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO CALL FROM THE MUSIC ROOM AFTER SCHOOL TO ARRANGE THIS. IT MUST BE PRE-ARRANGED!!!

Mission: Organization

Transform your middle schooler from a backpack pack-rat to a planning pro.

Don't criticize. Once you've got a system in place, keep touching base. If things get sloppy again (which should not surprise you!), don't pass judgment. Just help him get back on track without comment. It takes time to learn this, along with a healthy dose of patience and persistence from you.

Clean out the backpack regularly. Have her do it, say, every Sunday. Don't do it for her, but sit nearby. If you come across a test she did poorly on, don't comment. The session will revert from backpack cleaning to grades and very likely go downhill from there.

Keep a family calendar. Along with soccer practice and Mom's book club, keep track of big tests and the due dates of special projects. Seeing the bigger picture will allow you to help your child plan her time more effectively.

Call for reinforcements. If you've tried everything and your child still resists, seek outside help. Your child may respond better if your role changes from coach to cheerleader.
